

SVETLANA BABKINA (Moscow)

PhD in history, lecturer at the Center of Religion Studies at the Russian Humanitarian University

Sefer schools plunged me into the world of academic Judaica; students and teachers, many of whom are now my colleagues, impressed me by their enthusiasm and passion for Jewish study. Participating in the Eshnav program at the Hebrew University introduced me to a new world of Jewish study, Hebrew language, and research at Jerusalem's National Library, enabling me to complete my theses and begin my professional academic career.

Sefer is a big, wonderful, family where, in its student publication, my first academic article appeared.
